Connecting the Waters of the Mississippis and Atlantic.

A Washington dipadeh to the N. T. Hould of the 5th says:

The project of connecting the waters of the Mississippi with those of the Atlantic by means of a sbip causi, which has been approved by both the Naval and Military Committee of the Stense, and the Military Committee of the Sense, will be brought forward immediately. It is strengly upod, not only as a measure of military necessity, but one of great public importance on account of the wing to the producer in the cost of transportation to market. It is estimated by those have carefully studied the statistics of production and transportation that the saving hours a single crop will be more than sufficient to pay the whole expense of the improvement, including the enlargement of the New York canals.

Various Congressional Matters. Emancipation in Missour

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

Wasserseros, Jan. 6, 1861.

Western Republicans are greatly delighted over the triumphant pissage of Noel's bill for emancipation in Miscouri. Its principal features remain precipely as they were telegraphed in the dispatches some weeks ago, except in the third section. This, which provides that nothing should be paid for any slave imported after this date, or to any owner who entire is or has been disloyal, is now amended, so as to provide also that no owner who may have wilfully refused to take the oath of allegiance to the Government of the United States when required thereto by any military or civil authority of the United States or of the State of Missouri, shall receive any compensation for loss of service of States or of the State of Kissouri, shall re-ceive any compensation for loss of service of hits slaves.

Other sections appropriate $10,000,000 of thirty year five per cent, boods for paying loyal owners; pledges the United States Gov-serment to employ all reasonable measures for the celentation of these emanchated for the colonization of these emmelyated shows outside of the United States; and provides that, to secure the benefit of this act, the Missouri Legislature must pain its emmelyation bill before the let of January, 1864, and must make its unanospation immediate. WHAT BIGHTS We have yet to see the man, who, in urvate conversation, no matter, what the ancor, venom or treason of his talk, would naintain that the rebels at war against the which they are in arms, three-quarters of a million strong. But we have yet to see the "copperhead" Journal that is not filled, day after day, with articles bitterly denunciatory of the President, his Cabinet, the Republican Party, the War Democrats and the Abolitioniats, for their alleged vidiation of the "Constitutional rights of the South." We are never told what rights were violated, how they were violated, where they were violated, how they were violated, where they were violated. No such particulars as these.

it? By what power was he deprived of it —what law, what constitutional provision?
Now, this is the touch-stone which will solve the whole matter. Mr. Davis was a Senator from Mississippi. His term of office has not expired. If he is protected by the Constitution, he has, as the repre-sentative of his State, an undoubted right to walk into the Senate Chamber at Washington and vote on any question presented; and that right is as clear as the right of Senator Trumbull to do the same thing. No law excludes him. Nothing in the text No law excludes him. Nothing in the text of the Constitution itself rules him out. Yet, who will pretend that the President of the pirates Confederacy—the executive head of another and a hostile government—is a member of our own. If he, by rebellion against the Constitution, has lost his right to that seat—a right just as sacred and just as clearly defined as any other right area.

as clearly defined as any other right speci-fied in the fundamental law—has he any other constitutional rights that have been ed the one, did it not at the same time desave as he has more ability for mischief, than erament by their voices and votes, is only a difference of degree. Their crime is the same in the eyes of the law. Then what or what right of theirs is violated if the full penalty for their rebellion is exacted?

This examination of a single one of the rights enjoyed by Davis before his revolt, illustrates the whole question, for him and his fellow rebels, better than a page of argument without an example. We commend it to the secesh organ as a point worthy by its examination; and if it can stop lying by wholesale long enough to give an hour's attention to the matter, we shall be glad to see its answer.

The truth is, all of this halderdash about the constitutional rights of a people who spit up and and dely the Constitution, who will confess no allegiance to it, and who are at war against it, is intended only to deceive the masses of the North into the belief that Mr. Lincoln is an usurper, and, to the extent of that belief, to weaken his our country's care, breaks out into many power and influence and to impair the authority of his government among those who owe it allegiance. The end to be attained is aid and comfort for the rebels. We warn our readers that the men who will not have done their quibbling about the violation of rights that were long ago forfelted, are only wanting an opportunity and Mack were absent.

Mr. Mayfield of Massac was elected perimanent Secretary.

Nelson Abbott of McDonough county, was elected First Assistant Secretary, and Wim. Rounseville of Feoria, Second Assistant. Louis Houck of St. Clair, was elected enroiling and engrossing clerk; M. J. Murray, first assistant; and James Low, of Adams, second assistant; D. J. Wagnoner, of Fulton, sergiant-sit-arms, and J. M. Biades, of Hamilton, assistant. James Ward, of Pike, was elected postmaster. All of which you had by telegraph.

Mr. Underwood offered a resolutifin that Secretary of the Senate inform the House of Representatives that the Senate had met and organized, by electing the above named officers, and were now ready to proceed to business; which motion was carried.

On motion, the Secretary was instructed to appoint two pages for the use of the Senate.

The Senate then adjourned until 2 o clock P. m.

The feeling among the Democrats of the Senate was be represented by the expressive word "ugly," and very great gloom and apprehension exist in regard to the future of our State.

Dick Merrick holds forth to-night. Dick says the locomotive (Uncle Sam) is still on the track, but there must be a collision soon, or he's mistaken. He bids for the Senatorship. But the indications, so insiders say, are

Are we on the eve of a revolution in State? Is Illinois to be plunged into some condition of war and desolution as sour! Kentucky and Tennessee? are questions asked by conservative and MESSES, GAGE AND COLER.

The seats of these two gendlemen are contested. It was decided in Democratic caucas to throw dage out. I do not know as to Coler, who is from Champaign. Mr. Gagunade a very neat speech in his case. He said he did not want the seat if he had no right to it. Both seats are wanted for their material votes. I imagine those votes are intended for some other man than Bichardson.

ough to govern ourselves and streng lough to stand against the world united N. P. Banks, Major Gen. Commanding. A WARNING TO THE REPERS.

Gen. Banks has also issued the follow New OBLEANS, Dec. 21, 1881.

Information has been received at these head quarters that publications, injurious to the character of soldiers of the United States, are circulated in the streets, and that anonymous and threatening letters are sent to officers connected with the public service. Buch practices are indecent, offensive and oriminal, and must be suppressed. The troops of this department are instructed to observe a respectful deportment to all persons, and the same deference will be exacted from all persons in their favor.

Any attempt on the part of any recreaters. Command of Major General Banks.
RICHARD R. IBWIN, Lt. Col., A. A. G. FROM THE SOUTH. THE BANK OF MONTREAL,

TON have soon, therefore, the benefit of the laws and justice of the devermment against which you have rebelled.

Why, then, will you not all return to your alleginee to that dovernment—not with ilp scyle, but with the heart? stable constitutional government—if you de-sire that they should in the future be a portion of the greatest empire the sun ever shous about—return to your allogance. There is not one thing that stands in the There is but ope thing that at this hour ands between you and the Government, and and South, which was only squaled by that which their-breakdity inspired in the breast of our grandfathers.

The Confederate States will remember Regland in the future. There was a time when she could have made fast friends of us, but that thin, wi believe, is going by forever. We look upon her present government as little less corrupt than that of the North. The conduct of her Ministers in our affaire has been characterised by sordful inst and-base fears. A threat from Saward will silence Earl Ressell more effectually thin the waits of the suffering poor of his-country. Treachery being the predominant characteristic of both the Yankee and the English Fremiers, we are not surprised that there is a mutual hostility to the South, and perhaps a tacit understanding ty despoil us of the products of our country. Seward is by far, the shrewder knave of the two, and his voice seems to be as potent with Earl Russell as it is in the Cabinet at Washington. Certain it is that he has dictated, in most supercitious terms, the course which he wished to pursue since the establishment of the blockade and the recognition of the Comfederates as belignerates. Up to the consummation of the latter event, the willy Tankee for hand not put his thumb upon the old English Premier. Since then, however, the conduct of England has been dictated by Seward. duct of England has been dictated by Seward.
GEORGE SANDER'S ADVICE TO THE NORTHEAN CONSERVATIVES.

[From the Richmond Whig, Dac. 20.]
George Sanders has written a letter to his old political chams, Horstio Soymour, Dean Richmond, John Van Buren, Charles O'Connor, Fernando Wood and others, in which, after congratuating them on their success in the November election, and picturing the relinous consequences of Abolition sway, he calls upon them to reflect by resolute and decisive action, the indication signaled by the people at the ballot in that massive and successful effort. What he first and chiefly recommends is the repudiation of the enormous debt which Lincoln has forced upon rder to correct public misapprehension arapresentation, for the mairaction o-opy of the department, and the infor-nce of all parties in interest, official public is herewith mise of the preclamation President of the United States, fela-

Monitor pays the sollowing tribute to the Marine Hospital in this city, and the manner in which it is conducted:

Having occasion a few days since to yisit Chicago, we improved an invitation to call at the Marine Hospital, now in charge of Prof. Laham of the Lind University. We were cordially received, and accompanied him in his morning visit to the various wards. This hospital was originally intended for seamen only and under control of the government, but at this time about seventy sick and wounded soldiers occupy a portion of the wards. There are also about the same number of seamen. The appearance of the halls and the various wards showed as plainly that order, cleanliness and good ventilation were considered an important adjunct in the treatment of disease. The floors, windows and everything about the wards were as clean and in as good order as in every well regulated house. The peculiar threes of the Doctor for the place was further evidenced by the promptnesses and scientific manner in which he made his craminations and prescriptions, as well as in his kind vords and pleasant manners among the invalide They also showed their appreciation of him by words and pleasant manners among the invalide They also showed their appreciation of him by words and pleasant manners among the invalide They also showed their appreciation of him by words and pleasant manners among the invalide They also showed their appreciation of him by words and pleasant manners among the invalidation and prescriptions, and we done not that many a poor fellow will regret leaving the hospital and never forget the kind care bestowed, and skilful treatment of Prof. faham.

EF The Tollet Companion is the name by which Joseph Burnett & Co. designate the near and convenient ease in which these famons chemists and porfumers put up their superior proparations for tollet use; viz: "Kalliston," "Cocasina," "Ori-cital Tooth Wash," and "Florimel!" These are not only of approved userhiness, and all that they prefers to be, but also remarkable for a deficacy of perfume and healthy parify, very seldom met with in articles which are sold at such moderate prices.

POR ASTRIA.—Jonas Whitcomb's remedy, prepared from a German recipe, obtained by the inte Jonas Whitcomb, in Europe. It is well known to have alleviated this disorder in his case, when all other appliances of medical skill had been abandoned by him in despair. In no case of purely asthamatic character has it falled to give immediate relief, and it has effected many permanent cures. It contains no poisonous or injurious properties whatever an infant may take it with perfect safety.

[EF Burnett's Oriental Tooth Wash, combines the most desirable cleanating and astringent preperties. It arrests degay of the Tooth, neutralize the secretions of the mooth, renders the Gum hard and healthy, and impacts to the breath a fragrance pocculiarly seconatic and pleasant.

Genilemen will find it an effectual detergent to use after smoking.

WEXKLY REVIEW.—The weather, during the past week, has been unusually mild, with heavy falls of rain, which report says, has very materially dismaged the winter wheat in the Southern and Central portions of the State, as would as in Michigan and Indiana.

The heavy rains have caused the reads in the interior to be almost impassable, and the deliveries of grain have consequently been light.

The general markets for grain have been active and buoyant and prices have advanced materially. Wheat advanced within the past week 760c per bushel; Cora advanced 4626c; Oats, 465c; Rye. 438c; and Barley 6626 per bushel. The prospect of a speedy opening of the Mississtypi River has contributed greatly towards stimulating the demand, especially for Corn and Oats, and a strong speculative feeling has prevailed, which, however, had partially subsided towards the close—wheat and corn clothing dull and decoping.

The Provision market has been firm, but owing to the difficulty in shipping, there has been hose activity. In Barreled Pork there has been more activity is the better prices; but in Bulk Meats there is no change.

activity at better prices; but in Bulk Meats there is no change.

The receipts of Hogs during the past week were 66,681, live and dressed. This is a failing off from the week previous, but this was to be expected on account of the bad roads in the interior.

The Grocery market is steady, except Sugara, which show an advance of 'ac per B on the week. Keresene still tends downward—the market for refined closing at 550,500.

The following tables show the receipts and shipments of leading articles of produce during the past week, with comparative statistics:

The market for the New Year opens minimally buoyant. The quictness which prevailed in the trade about ten days ago, gave place a few days since in the Eastern markets to excitement and activity—with an eager speculative inquiry for all kinds of seasonable cotton goods. The consequence is that aimost every article which was not up to the basis of the per 26 for cotton, has advanced and is still advancing according to our laiest advices. Heavy sheetings have advanced in New Nork to Yugines and See is even asked by some Erms, while the offers to the trade at current prices have been nearly all withdraws. Here, we observe, our wholesale dealers have not advanced their figures above Fig., but it is evident that the market must
